

BIG BROTHERS ARE WATCHING

Students Take Small Hands

By Jean Mass

"Please come to our Christmas program Dec. 18 at 4 p.m. at the Children's Home." Scrawled in the big script of a child's printing, this invitation reached the hands of every college student who has a "little brother" or "little sister" at the Waverly Lutheran Children's Home.

Approximately sixty five Wartburg students participate in the Big Brother-Sister program conducted in conjunction with the Children's Home. Although the organization has been in existence quite a few years, it has been only during the past two years that the program has been expanded and improved.

'Wholesome Contacts Furnished'

"The purpose of the club is to furnish the kids at the Home with wholesome contacts for fun and recreation, to strengthen their opinions of people and to make life happier for the kids," stated Wayne Weissenbocher, junior, chairman of the group.

Youngsters and their big brothers and sisters are frequently seen at campus parties, sports events, movies and at the Home. Parties and picnics are planned for the entire group.

Meetings are scheduled with the social workers, so that college students may discuss problems they face in their positions as "big brothers and sisters." They are expected to make at least one contact every two weeks.

Visits Especially Awaited

The students and the children generally eagerly await these visits. Often a student is heard speaking proudly of the accomplishments of a "little brother or sister."

brother or sister," while the same holds true in return.

"The Home is thankful for the interest of the students," concluded Weissenbocher. "They fill an important place in the lives of these children."

Debate Squad Wins 3, Faces Central Feb. 11

Winning three out of six rounds in a recent tournament at Midland College, Fremont, Neb., Wartburg's Debate team placed midway among 26 teams.

Defeating the University of Wichita and Kearney State Teachers College were senior Zoltan Nagy and junior Doug Soley. Central College, Falls, will furnish opposition for the next contest, Feb. 11, according to Robert Smith, debate coach.

KWAR Searches For Radio Talent

KWAR, campus radio station, is broadcasting for additional personnel to replace those staff members lost by first semester graduation. Those interested in programming classical music and news are in immediate need, and should contact Junior Jim Roever, program director.
